The books and accounts of the Sheriff and Clerk for the facal year 1876 were examined and found correct in every particular. The 13th financial statement printed for distribution shows the receipts from all sources to be $100,195 17, the amount of Commissioners' orders paid and road vouchers to be $100,295 87, leaving a balance due the Sheriff $2,07 07, June 1st, 1877; the over draft was occasioned by the heavy rains of August 7, 1876, damaging culverts, roads and small bridges, and the ice break, of last winter damaging the Fulton bridge, in all some $7,300; otherwise there would have been a small surplus of $1,200. The present levy will probably meet this deficiency. The statement of the Bank of Wheeling, 72 per cent loan, and return of 183 coupons paid Sept. 1, 1877, was examined and found correct, showing balance in hands of said commissioners of the loan of $1,355 18, receipt hereby acknowledged and placed on record. The committee recommended that the balance of Ohio county's subscription of $9,000 due the P. W. & Ky. Railroad be paid, and that the President and Clerk of the Board be directed to receive the bonds of said P., W. & Ky. Railroad, amounting to $50,000, and deposit the same in the vault of the Bank of Wheeling. The report was adopted.

The mouthly inspection of the jail was made, and the institution found in good condition, with the exception of the injector at the boiler; it seems to be giving out. If the same can be repaired to be of safety for this season it is probable a new one will have to be put in the coming season. Report adopted.

Your life is in danger when you allow a severe cough or cold to go unchecked. Dr. Buil's Cough Syrup is a cheap, harm-less and reliable remedy.

The complaint was filed by one William H. Johnson, a huckster from somewhere over in Ohio, who on Friday night attended a performance given at the "Theatre Comique." It is quite likely that Mack's troubles have only commenced, as Justice Wm. Phillips has a State warrant for him on the same charge, and the United States authorities also promise to give him a lively racket. In the meanwhile, the "Theatre Comique," like a banquet hall deserted, gives forth no sound of revelry, and during the manager's engagement with Supt. A PLUCKY GIRL.—About half-past eight o'clock last evening a small crowd of loungers at the southeast corner of Market and 14th streets were witnesses of a rather novel incident. Two young girls, scarcely more than past "sweet sixteen," came up the street, and stopping at the corner one of them turned to a MUCH WHISEY.—A liquor seller in North Wheeling yesterday brought suit, before Justice Marshall, against 27 parties for whisky bills aggregating $54.55, or within a fractional average of $3.50 in each case. The same party says he has $250 more bills of the same sort, which will enable him to divide his patronage in pretty liberal shares among the Justices. If the same average obtains among them all they will foot up an aggregate of nearly a thousand dollars without costs of suit. These bills, we take it, are being sued on so as to get them into convenient shape for collection as soon as the mills start up, and they will probably be paid before bills in currel for the necessaries of life. Most of these paids and the man did not attempt to follow them up. Market street to find then up for where they stood. OPERA HALL.—Unc.: Tom's Cabia.—
The opening of the new amusement hall, in the Washington Hall building, to-night, by the monster Uncle Tom Combination, from the Pittsburgh Opera House, promises to be the event of the season. Manager Gotthold has been to an enormous expense in bringing this large troupe here, with scenery, etc., and our citizens will no doubt show their appreciation of his efforts, as well as that of the Hall Association, in furnishing a first class place of amusement, by giving them a rousing reception. The reconstructed version of that charming old play of Uncle Tom has met with wonderful success in Baltimore, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and other places, and all the attractions that have characterized its revival elsewhere will be produced here to-night, including the celebrated Jubilee Singers, superb scenery, telling pictures, etc. So great has been Manager Gotthold's success in Pittsburgh that the play will be put on for another run next week. The plantation scenes, with genuine freedmen, is a true picture of slave life. This great moral play has always been a favorite with the public, and with the new and attractive features, and supported by such a list of first-class artists as Manager Gotthold brings with him, its success here is assured.
